

RESTAURANT ROLE CARDS

A. You have never been to a restaurant like this before, so you don't know what a fork or knife is, what the menu is, and what any of the dishes are. You constantly ask questions because you don't understand anything, and you're very annoying.

B. You love this restaurant, and you visit it very often. You're annoyingly cheerful and you know all the food on the menu, because you've tried everything. You keep telling everybody how amazing this restaurant is, and how almost all the dishes are your favorite dish. You order loads of everything.

C. You are a health nut. You've seen a video on the internet about MSG/Gluten/etc., and are concerned about all the food at the restaurant and if it's actually healthy. You ask too many questions to the waiter/waitress about the contents of the food, and keep annoying your friends telling them about how bad MSG can be for their health.

D. You don't have much money, and you don't want to spend it at the restaurant. Keep complaining that everything is too expensive, or try suggesting a cheaper restaurant. Don't order any wine or drinks except water. Tell people about how much cheaper it would be to make the same dish at home.

E. You like showing off. You tell people about all the amazing places you've travelled to, all the famous people you've dined with, and all the expensive, amazing restaurants you've eaten at. You keep telling your friends that this restaurant is OK, but not too impressive, because you are used to expensive restaurants and places.

F. You complain a lot. Everything in this restaurant is a problem for you. The chairs, the food, the service, the weather, the temperature. You eat, but you hate the food.
